self-awareness at the individual level is what can enable each person to wake up and do what's needed to ensure a future for us on this planet -- to change the world from the bottom up